ACE Building:

- New Bathrooms on the First Floor:
 - There have some hold ups with this work. Arrangements have been made to have two architects working together to move forward with the town on the bids process.
- The bathrooms have been a future pivotal milestone and as this work is coming together, the committee agreed to start planning out the next building phases. At the next meeting, the committee will start working with architect Michael KilKelly on a business plan for the next phases.

ACE Non-profit Structure: Agreement to put this effort on hold due to the focus on the bathroom bids and planning for the next phases of building work
