The consultant wishes to thank the citizens and staff of the Town of Wakefield for their assistance in preparing the Wakefield Preservation Plan. Town Planner Paul Reavis has been extremely helpful during the preparation of the plan, both through his comments on the drafts and through his sound advice and professional assistance. Mr. Reavis' contribution to the Preservation Plan will assure that it will be an important Town planning document and an important element of the Wakefield Master Plan.

Nancy Bertrand, Chair of the Wakefield Historical Commission, was very helpful during the preparation of the plan. Her unwavering assistance, thoughtful comments and reviews of drafts were of great help in focusing on issues that needed to be addressed. Her assistance with the extensive windshield survey of the town for historic inventory prospects was especially valuable.

Thanks are also due to Town Administrator Thomas P. Butler; Robert McLaughlin, Chairman of the Master Plan Committee and member of the Planning Board; Planning Board Chair Donald Dusenbury; Building Inspector John Roberto; Acting Public Works Director Thomas Hayes; William Wallace, Director of the Municipal Gas and Light Department; Edward Murray, president of the Friends of the Breakheart Reservation; and many other board and staff members and citizens. Their comments on plan drafts and their assistance in various ways has been invaluable.

Finally, the consultant is grateful to the excellent staff of the Massachusetts Historical Commission for their high degree of professionalism and helpful assistance during the preparation of the plan. Special thanks are due to Christopher C. Skelly, Director of Local Government Programs and Elsa N. Fitzgerald, Acting Director.
